Since 1955 the Champions League Final has crowned the best team of all top-division European clubs and is considered one of the most prestigious soccer competitions in the world.

This year, after the qualifying phase and playoffs, the tournament began mid September with a group stage of 32 teams. The top two teams in each group (16 teams total) will advance to the knockout stages beginning on February 12, 2020.

In 2019, Liverpool was crowned the champion for the 6th time in Madrid. Who do you want to see in the finals this year?
